

Ecosystems

- My classroom environment is a shared place where students take a part in organizing it. I take pictures of the students and display student projects to assure that the classroom belongs to all of us.

According to Molnar & Lindquist (1989) a teacher and his or her students are part of the classroom ecosystem and are therefore influenced by the ecosystemic relations in that classroom (p. 11).